It is my pleasure to present the 2017 Community Hospice of Texas annual report. It has been a remarkable year.

Leadership transferred from founding CEO Andrea Green to Victoria L. Jingle, an extraordinary woman who is both our new chief executive and a leader whose imprint on Community Hospice of Texas dates back to its formative years.

We are deeply indebted to Andrea for her extraordinary example, decades of service, and the future she made secure for the cause we now steward with Viki as our able partner.

Rest assured our mission and unique calling are unchanged. As the state's largest not-for-profit provider of hospice and palliative care, Community Hospice of Texas belongs to the communities and people it serves. That fact is reflected in countless strengths, from our Hospice Houses to the Little Doves Pediatric Hospice program so precious to my own family, that distinguish Community Hospice of Texas as a not-for-profit provider, one created by and for the community through your gifts.

We thank you for your faithful support, our greatest asset, this year and through all the years Community Hospice of Texas has served our state.

With a grateful heart,
Deidrea
